- A dear friend of the British Royal family, she is credited along with her father for bringing Polo to the US.

Jorie: The Extraordinary Life of Jorie Butler Kent, Visionary and Philanthropist is the story of family and its traditions, of cinematic adventure, of a deep abiding love for nature. Jorie has succeeded it whatever she set her mind to. To name but a few of her accomplishments: she is herself champion equestrian as well as one of the first women to run a championship polo team, among the first westerners to lay eyes on the Terracotta Army in China, a fixture of society from New York to Palm Beach, the organiser of Princes William and Harry's inaugural African safari, and award-winning pioneer of environmentally conscious tourism and conservation in Kenya.

With her business, the world-renowned luxury travel company Abercrombie & Kent, built with Geoffery Kent, and her charity, Friends of Conservation, bringing her to places as diverse as the plains of the Masai-Mara and the uplands of Papua New-Guinea, Jorie has changed the lives of thousands of people.
